Do not despair quote

Quotes tagged as "despair-quotes" Showing 1-30 of 50 "Learn from stars; even in the dark they give off light, not despair." — Matshona Dhlwayo "Each mind conceives god in its own way. There may be as many variation of the god figure as there are people in the world" — Bangambiki Habyarimana, Pearls Of Eternity "Never despair if you have to start at the bottom; not even the sun rises from the top." — Matshona Dhlwayo "Snails do not despair for having short legs, but rejoice for being able to travel long distances in spite of them." — Matshona Dhlwayo "Being sad is normal. It's despair that is the enemy. Despair is like a badly sealed window. It allows all manner of things to leak inside. That's what it means to be haunted. To be cursed. It's when something takes root in the soul, the way mold can take root in the walls." — Madeline Ashby, Robots vs. Fairies "SADLY Friends are sometimes like shadows.When you walk in the light, they follow you.And when you fall into darkness, they leave you." — Mouloud Benzadi "Tragedy is a disaster, but desperation after that tragedy is a much greater disaster" — Mehmet Murat ildan "The ashes wail a gut-wrenching cry. They sing out of anguish, for not just the loss of a home. But for all the losses from my life—each singing their own notes." — Shauna L Hoey "It is because of pain that you value pleasure, sorrow that you value joy, despair that you value hope, war that you value peace, and hate that you value love." — Matshona Dhlwayo "An ounce of hope shields you from a ton of despair." — Matshona Dhlwayo "When you're feeling down, always remember, that dark days will not last for ever. There will be sunshine after the rain, There will be pleasure after the pain." — Mouloud Benzadi "Courage lightens distress, hope alleviates grief, doubt aggravates affliction, fear worsens anguish, worry magnifies misery, and faith overthrows despair." — Matshona Dhlwayo "Ever since he had been a kid, he had wished and waited, and there had been no change except for the worst." — James T. Farrell, Studs Lonigan "Looking on the bright side of life is better than looking on the dark side of despair." — Matshona Dhlwayo "Smile in the face of sorrow; hope in the face of despair; persevere in the face of obstacles, and love in the face of hate." — Matshona Dhlwayo "Intensive work engagement is an effective medicine that we should use in case of many problems that occur in life. For example, when you are being treated unfairly at work or going through promotion discrimination, do not despair or complain that life isn't fair, but rather respond by intensive work, start a new challenging project, enroll in a master's degree program or in a doctoral program. Such activities will occupy you completely, so that you will quickly overcome the problem and repair your injured self esteem." — Eraldo Banovac "I have looked into the deepest darkest parts of my heart and soul and see no light, yet I feel the fires of rage and despair burning ever do bright." — George Banister "I have looked into the deepest darkest parts of my heart and soul and see no light, yet I feel the fires of rage and despair burning ever so bright." — George Banister "Hope is a greater warrior than despair." — Matshona Dhlwayo "Even the deepest darkness of despair dissolves when you carry the lamp of God within." — Anoir Ou-Chad "That day, she also left behind a long dark night to chase and ineffable dead emptiness of many, many, hours between us." — Bobby George, One Within "Despair is a cliff in front of you while an army marches at your back. A broken sword in battle, a quiver with no arrows, a hangman's noose. It is water in your lungs when all you want to do is breathe." — K.S. Villosso, The Ikessar Falcon "Am I fake? If I am fake, this means I am not real. If I am not real, maybe I should be dead. If I am dead, who would miss me? Everyone who pretends to care is always drunk or out of it. So, no one would miss me. I have nothing. I am nothing. Caoimhe, did you think I was fake, too? Is that why you let the Golden Falls take you? I want to join you where ever you are. If you are in another reality, let me go there, too. You never said goodbye when you left. You were my sunshine. Did you really love me? Am I devoid of love? Did you take my heart with you so that I have none to give to another? I am a shell of a woman." — Bronze Gayle, Teleria "Never let despair be the end of your journey. When going through hell, have faith in GOD, trust the process & keep going; it will get better." — Jesus Apolinaris "The feeling of unwanted, unloved, and uncared for can bring about despair. Just know that love is the cure for loneliness, sadness, and hopelessness. You are lovable and qualified to love those hungry for love. Dismiss arrogance and embrace humbleness; this is when you will start to open your heart to endless possibilities of being love." — Jesus Apolinaris "Never let despair be the end of your journey.When going through hell, have faith in GOD's Love, trust the process & keep going; it will get better." — Jesus Apolinaris "Always keep faith in yourself, keep going and stay strong. Never give up on your dreams and never give up hope." — Mouloud Benzadi "When hope is extinguished, boredom and despair set in. Therefore, it would be wise to guard against these latter attributes." — Mwanandeke Kindembo "Once again, in my greatest hour of despair, I seek refuge in her chaos." — Kamil Alvi CC0/ skeeze/Pixabay When we have a President who says things like "I will build a great, great wall on our southern border, and I will have Mexico pay for that wall" as his answer to immigration, it's no wonder we're keen to read other funny stuff said by equally powerful people over the years. Some of the following are just as surprising as the former, while most you'll find powerful and moving and funny all at the same time. Ex-PresidentsWas Jimmy Carter known as a funny President? He couldn't have been because his tenure at the top occurred during a time in which inflation and recession were rife, but after he left office he must have relaxed a little because he said "My esteem in this country must have gone up substantially. It is very nice now that when people wave at me, they use all their fingers." Bill Clinton was just as witty once he'd left office. "Being president is like running a cemetery: you've got a lot of people under you and nobody's listening."Elvis the ElectricianElvis was loved and revered throughout his career. Worshipped by women and idolized by men but he wasn't a comedian. He was a funny guy though from time to time, like when he was asked about his past and he said: "I was training to be an electrician. I suppose I got wired the wrong way round somewhere along the line." Although he was never a fully trained electrician, Elvis attended electrical apprenticeship school during the evenings. Lessons from History"We learn from history that we learn nothing from history" is so true and perhaps only funny when you're reflecting on a lesson you should have learned from the past. The man who said those words, George Bernard Shaw, was a noted playwright and critic so he knew something about being witty and wise. While it's not a funny quote, another thing he said is worth repeating here: "We don't stop playing because we grow old; we grow old because we stop playing." How true is that? GandhiGandhi wasn't a funny guy but he made his point eloquently through humor when he was asked: "What do you think of western civilization" and he responded: "I think it would be a good idea." He was full of great wisdom when he said things like "In a gentle way, you can shake the world". Can you believe that Gandhi initially had a crippling fear of public speaking but he overcame it to spread his message around the world? Henry Ford"If I had asked people what they wanted, they would have said faster horses" really does explain the focused nature of Henry Ford who knew his own mind and didn't need anyone else's assistance. Like so many of the other famous people quoted here, when Ford said "The man who stops advertising to save money is like the man who stops the clock to save time" he was making a point through gentle humor as that has a way of landing with people. MORE FROM LIFE123.COM quotations about despair It's the circle of lifeAnd it moves us allThrough despair and hopeThrough faith and loveTill we find our placeOn the path unwindingIn the circleTIM RICEDespair is the conclusion of fools. BENJAMIN DISRAELIWe should never despair, our Situation before has been unpromising and has changed for the better, so I trust, it will again. If new difficulties arise, we must only put forth New Exertions and proportion our Efforts to the exigency of the times.GEORGE WASHINGTONDespair ... is like a gas, odourless, tasteless, without nourishment. You breathe it in, your limbs relax, you cease to care, even at the moment when the steel touches your throat,J.M. COETZEEHe who has never hoped can never despair.GEORGE BERNARD SHAWHe gives beauty for ashesStrength for fearGladness for mourningPeace for despairWhen sorrow seems to surround youWhen suffering hangs heavy oer your headKnow that tomorrow bringsWholeness and healingGod knows your needCRYSTAL LEWISSister DespairShe must not see you cryHide your tearsCan't we just bring her DelightTORI AMOSWhat we call our despair is often only the painful eagerness of unfed hope.GEORGE ELIOTPatience, n. A minor form of despair, disguised as a virtue.AMBROSE BIERCEI know that in this world, to all, there must be moments, days, months, and in some cases years, of darkness, when this weak vessel we sail through life's ocean main in, seems to be surrounded by lofty icebergs, without one small crack left to squeeze through; then of all times is the time to "look aloft." Man's dire extremity is the hour the Almighty has commanded us to call Him. He, who divided the waters of the Red Sea, can any moment open a clear and safe passage through our troubles, and cause rejoicing where a moment before all was grief and despondency. Never abandon yourself to despair. Hope never dies in the breast of a true man or woman, and remember the door of heaven is never closed night or day, and is as wide open to the hoary head as to the youth or maiden. Whilst there is life there is hope-It is never too late for any living being—it was not for righteous people, but to save sinners, that the crucifixion took place on the heights of Calvary. To believe this, and sincerely repent, is all that God has ever asked of the greatest sinner that ever trod, or ever will tread this beautiful world, where man was placed by God a free agent, knowing good from evil.T. AUGUSTUS FORBES LEITHThere's a street that only ends aloneA place you go to find your soulWhere the paralyzing screamAnd the echoes dark betweenWait in the shadowsYou're entering the streets of despairDEAD MOONSo long as we are not absolutely bound and imprisoned by the stern law of impossibility, despair can never constitute any part of our duty. While there remains a single ray of hope, or one foothold for another struggle, we are under the highest obligation to pray, and once more to try,ELIAS LYMAN MAGOONI would not despair unless I knew the irrevocable decree was passed, I saw my misfortune recorded in the book of fate, and signed and sealed by necessity,JEREMY COLLIERDespair has its own calms.BRAM STOKERSo long as we have failed to eliminate any of the causes of human despair, we do not have the right to try to eliminate those means by which man tries to cleanse himself of despair.ANTONIN ARTAUDDespair is vinegar from the wine of hope.AUSTIN O'MALLEYA despairing heart is the true prophet of approaching evil; his actions may weave the webs of Fortune, but not break them.FRANCIS QUARLESWhen I despair, I remember that all through history the way of truth and love has always won. There have been tyrants and murderers and for a time they seem invincible, but in the end, they always fail.MOHANDAS GANDHIDespair is good. Despair can be the nadir of one life and the starting point of an ascent into another, better one.DEAN KOONTZWho turns away from gazing at the sun Sees its dusk images fill all the air. It is not otherwise when Hope is done: Her darkling phantoms make the heaven of Despair.EDITH MATILDA THOMAS
